Bear Hunt

From the time you arrive at our resort to the time you leave to go home we work to make you feel relaxed and comfortable throughout your experience.

We have access to approximately 150 square miles of prime bear hunting territory accessible in part by boat and in part by road and/or 4 wheel ATV trails.

The combination of our Conservation practices, prime bear habitat, and the following have resulted in a true Trophy Bear Hunting experience for our guests.

Maximum number of hunters each year is 8 Have a policy of one licence—one bear

- A wounded bear is considered to be a harvested bear. We work hard to track the bear after it has been shot. If the bear cannot be found your hunt is over. You can hunt with a camera but not with a weapon.
- If a sow and cub appear at a bait site the site cannot be hunted.
- We operate approximately 25 bait sites.
- We operate 15 game cameras which are moved to cover all bait sites.
- We start baiting one month prior to the start of the hunt.
- We keep detailed records with pictures about what is happening at each site.
- All sites are prepared for YOUR tree stand. Most sites are suitable for ground blinds.
- All sites are within cell phone range of our resort.
- After your bear is harvested there is a local service available where your bear can be prepared for you to take home. Meat is cut, wrapped and frozen. Hide is prepared to your wishes and frozen. The fee is approximately $200.00.
- We support you through all phases of your hunt.

Throughout our hunting area our guests have harvested bears which have ranged in size from 150 lbs. to 750 lbs. All bears have had great looking fur which has been predominately black. Approximately 15% of the bears harvested were colour phase with various shades of brown markings.

Success Rate - Bear Hunt

By booking no more than eight hunters each year, combined with strong conservation practices, we have had 100% success in most years.

In order to continue to offer a hunt where every year several guests harvest bears in the 400lb to 600lb range and other guests see large bears but harvest smaller ones, we must limit the number of hunters that we accept on a yearly basis and we must follow good conservation practices. In addition, our guests must continue to be high quality sports people who come to the hunt with a good hunting skill set, a respect for the animal which they are hunting and a desire to have a memorable hunting experience.

When your hunt is over you can continue to hunt via the use of a camera, get involved in baiting and assisting other hunters to recover bears, go fishing in Red Lake or a combination of all of the above as your hunting package is a combination hunting/fishing package.

Success Rate - Moose Hunt

We measure moose hunting success in terms of harvested moose and close encounters with moose. Over the years we have had a harvest rate of approximately 50% to 80% of our groups harvest a moose. A close encounter occurs when the moose comes to within 10 to 40 yards from the hunter and for some reason the moose isn't in a position to permit a good shot. We are proud of the hunter who elects not to shoot in those circumstances. We feel we are very close to having 100% of our groups have a close encounter with a moose.

Moose Hunt

The majority of our guests archery hunt. The occasional guest will hunt with a gun. All hunts take place at one of our seven remote fly-in outposts and usually last from seven to ten days.

At six of our lakes our outpost is the only one on the lake.

Since we have excellent moose habitat surrounding the lakes which we hunt and we only accept fifteen to twenty hunters each season, we have a very sustainable, healthy moose population in our hunting areas.

Over the past twenty years we have been associated with Alex Gouthro who has guided the development of our archery moose hunt and has worked hand in hand with us to ensure our guests have memorable experiences.

We encourage our hunting guests to have a broad knowledge of the animal which they will hunt. To that end Alex has produced a DVD called "Gouthro's Moose Madness Quick Fix For The Hunter". This is the best resource for a novice and experienced moose hunter that I have seen on the market today!

From the time you arrive at our resort to the time you leave to go home we work to make you feel relaxed and comfortable throughout your experience.

Once you are at your outpost you can communicate with us via a sat phone. We will drop by to see you every couple of days as the weather permits. During these check flights we will bring your additional supplies etc. and hopefully fly out your moose!

If required we will orientate you to your hunting areas to get you started. We have guides available who are highly experienced woodsmen and are also great people to spend a week or more with while hunting.
